We are pleased to announce that DNAS Lawyers has been appointed as legal adviser of Humane Society International (www.hsi.org), an US non-profit organization, to officially promote HSI's operation in Vietnam.

HSI is one of global animal protection organizations working to help all animals including animals in laboratories, animals on farms, companion animals and wildlife.

Through a partnership with the Vietnamese government, HSI's "I'm a Little Rhino" book is using in schools to teach children about rhino poaching concerns and conservation efforts. "I'm a Little Rhino" is one of key educational materials introduced during British Prince William's first visit to Vietnam last week.
